EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Well, we fixed the old press on Friday. The shiny new parts contrasted sharply with the dull old ones, even though the elderly portions had been recently scrubbed with gasoline.

We cranked up the aging dowager and fed a few sheets through. Everything worked fine and it looked like as though we would be in great shape for this week.

I guess her nose got out of joint, though. We started to print this week and had gotten only 250 sheets off when she groaned, shuddered and stopped. Her antique parts were completely crystallized. The broken ends looked like fudge.

So, once again, the PINE CONE comes to you through the gracious courtesy of Harry Casey and the King City Rustler-Herald. May it brighten your holiday.

6th Army Band To March In Rose Parade

The Sixth U.S. Army will be represented by a 100-piece marching band in the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's day.

The Nucleus of the composite unit is the Sixth Army Band of the Presidio of San Francisco, augmented by selected military musicians from the 28th and 52nd Army Bands of Fort Ord, the 433rd of Fort Irwin, and the 72nd of Fort MacArthur, all in California, and from Ft. Lewis, Wash., the 4th Infantry Division and 21st Army Bands.

Directed by Chief Warrant Officer Nathan A. Cammack Jr., the band has just completed four days of rehearsal at Fort Ord, and will reassemble at Fort MacArthur before the parade for final preparations.

The Sixth U.S. Army Band is recognized as one of the top Army bands in the nation. In the 17 years it has been at the Presidio it has won more than 150 major competitive trophies. In addition to the normal ceremonies performed at Army headquarters, it has participated in numerous formal welcomes to visiting chiefs of state and has appeared in countless public ceremonies, parades and dedica-

Yule-Tide Worship at Church of the Wayfarer

The Chorus Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Wehner, with the Chapel Singers will sing two anthems, "Jesu Bambino" and "In the Bleak Mid-Winter" at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services at the Church of the Wayfarer this Sunday. The second anthem is the composition of Mr. R. L. Kelly, a member of the Wayfarer choir. Dr. K. Filmore Grey's sermon subject will be "This Happens to Us."

On Christmas Eve there will be a Communion Service at 4 in the afternoon, with Mrs. Wehner, soloist.

There will also be a midnight service, starting at 11 p.m. with the Chapel Singers and the Bell Choir under the direction of Dr. Robert E. Cater. Dr. Grey's sermon will be "The Christmas Story."

● Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlman Fluehr of Pebble Beach entertained on Sunday, with an egg nog party at Del Monte Lodge.

● Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hubbard returned to their Pebble Beach home Saturday following a two weeks trip to the Bahamas and home via New York and Williamsburg.

● A Christmas party complete with a visit from Santa will be held at The Beach Club for members' children and their guests tomorrow.

● On December 27th at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, the teen-age members of the Winter Dance classes will have a Christmas dinner dance.

● An old-fashioned Christmas party complete with dinner, dancing and carol singing is planned for members of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club tomorrow evening. On Saturday afternoon, members' children will be feted at their annual Christmas party.

Santa Claus at Eastern Star Party Last Night

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stetson (Gretchen Herron) of Menlo Park are planning a Christmas tree with lots of toys for their brand new son, Carlton Dale, born December 11, in Stanford Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herron of Carmel, the proud grandparents of Gretchen's first child are busily stuffing his first Christmas sock, while Col. and Mrs. Harold Stetson of Pacific Grove, Carlton's paternal grandparents thinking in terms of toys for boys.

Jack and Mrs. Herron stole a day away from their Vienesse Shop on Lincoln street to visit their new grandson last Thursday.

Presbyterian Church
Special Yule Services

The Rev. Dr. George Hunter Hall, Pastor, Carmel Presbyterian Church, today announced the special Christmas Sunday services to be held next Sunday at the church, the two services at 9:30 and 11 o'clock being identical.

Dr. Hall's sermon will be "Christmas Lists and Gifts." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Farlinger, will sing "Carol of the Lonely Shepherd" by Caldwell. Mrs. Douglas Graham will sing a special solo "The Birthday of a King" by Neidlinger. Organ selections by James Farlinger include "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Bach and "Noel" by McKay.

A nursery is provided during each service for the care of infants and small children.

A beautiful and inspirational Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held at 11 p.m. Dec. 24 at the church. The entire community is invited to participate in this service, the minister, the Rev. Dr. George Hunter Hall, announced. Last year there was a standing room only audience in attendance.

The adult choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Farlinger, will sing as an Introit "Fanfare for Christmas Day" by Shaw, and "Song of the Crib," a 14th century German melody.

Keith W. Brandon, tenor, will sing "O Holy Night" by Adam.

James Farlinger, organist, will play "Pastorale" (from Sonata in D Minor) by Guilmant, "What Child Is This" by Purvis, and Christmas Carols for the carillon.

Miss Karen Ostrom, violinist from Long Beach State College, will play "Gesu Bambino" by Yon. Dr. Hall's presentation will be a brief Christmas story "I Was in Bethlehem That Night."

'Tis The Season To Be Merry...

Arriving Saturday from New York City will be Mr. and Mrs. James M. Infantino (Lynda King) who were married late in November. Lynda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Van Houden King, Jr. (Bonnie King).

Lynda and James will be here for a two-weeks whirl with hi-de-ho starting off with a festive cocktail party in their honor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Redhead. Emily Redhead tells us there will be heaps of surprise Christmas goodies under the tree for the bride and groom (Lynda and Jim).

Also arriving at the King home for the holidays will be Bonnie's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Boucher of San Francisco.

The Infantinos and the Bouchers will take off for a few days of skiing in Squaw Valley during Christmas week.

The Raymond Smiths have really been rushing hither (and yon for the past month. Biff went directly from school (Stanford) to Utah, for skiing. He will reach home around Christmas Eve to join Doug, a student at Robert Louis Stevenson, and Debbie who attends Santa Catalina, in trimming the tree. The day after Christmas the entire family is traveling to Pasadena, where they will be to welcome 1964.

The George Leutzingers, welcoming their daughter, Mary Jane, home from school in Colorado, for the holidays, entertained at the cocktail hour last Monday. A delightful feature of the party was the guest list, comprised of the older generation as well as Mary Jane's contemporaries. Everyone had fun, "remembering when."

The William Griffith's lovely home on Martin Road was crowded with friends in festive mood last Friday afternoon at sundown, for cocktails.

Terry and Mary (Elstob) Holland, with their two mischief makers, Deborah and Jennifer, will arrive in Carmel on Friday after Christmas. They will be visiting Mary's parents, the Fred Elstobs where Santa Claus will take over on Saturday afternoon at a very informal Christmas party honoring Carmel Pine Cone publisher Don Marshall's two small daughters, Morgen and Sarah, who will fly up from Los Angeles the day after Christmas to visit Dad.

Laden with red-bowed presents for the families Lacy and Jack Faia, with tiny Melissa of course, drove into town from Los Angeles. They will divide their two weeks stay between Lacy's parents, the Henry Williams, and Jack's parents, the Dr. John Faia, Jr.

Ronnie Faia is coming home too, from the University of Southern California Dental School and Ronnie Faia is on his way from Oregon State College.

Two years absence hasn't dimmed the exuberance of Chip (Oliver Elsworth Wood) who, after his graduation from Carmel High in '60 went to France for further study and is currently attending Wesleyan in Connecticut. Chip and his mother will be the house guests of Col. and Mrs. John W. Sherwood, Chip's maternal grandparents.

They Will Celebrate Christmas in the Tropics

The Islands, Mexico and points south seem to have a special lure for Carmelites this Christmas.

The Rod Wilsons with their daughters, Nicki and Sherri, took to the air yesterday. They will be sunning on Hawaiian beaches until Jan. 6 or 7.

The Maynard Petersens with their young quartette, Pam, Susie, Maynard, Jr., and Tim will leave on Saturday. Chief joy of the youngsters, we hear, will be surf riding.

Lt. Col. Bert N. Nishimura and his family have already arrived in Honolulu. Allen (Padre football star) has promised the Petersen boys some top form aquatic feats.

Dr. C. Arthur Spaulding and his family will be staying at the Wai-kiki Royal through the holidays.

The Frank Porters, the Paul Porters and the Paul Porters' children, Nancy and Patsy, of Carmel Valley, will register at the Foster

Towers Hotel in Honolulu. Of course they'll be seeing Peg Marquard who seems to have made up her mind to live forever and ever in our 50th State.

Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Binkley who divide their time between their home in Carmel and their home in San Francisco, will be enroute to Mexico City and Acapulca next week, for an indefinite length of stay.

Don Wyeth of Pebble Beach will be off to Bangkok before the New Year.

Jim and Margaret Moody's picnic trip sounds like real fun! They left yesterday in Margaret's Volkswagen and, except for the fact that they know they're going to travel southward and stop at Encino, Jim's home town, it is anybody's guess as to when and where they will be, until Jan. 4, when they'll be back home in Carmel. The Moodys are veterans at picnic travel. In fact they went 'round the world that way, moving along if, and when and where the spirit inspired them, and they agree "it was great."

Herald society editor Evelyn Londahl is sunning at Acapulca, and we hear that her greatest joy is not being on the receiver end of a telephone!

BANKAMERICARD SPOKEN HERE

Through many years in Carmel, wherever and whenever welfare organizations have gone into action, invariably three outstanding women of our community have been on hand to meet the challenge.

In money raising drives, in the real drudgery of rummage sales and in presenting benefit or educational programs, their enthusiasm and hard work have gone far to insure the project's success. They have not only lent their names, and often their homes, they have given untold hours of service.

At Community Hospital their hours of service there have been recorded.

and Mrs. Richard Bower have been awarded the hospital's 1,000-hour pins for their service as Pink Ladies.

The Pine Cone salutes this dedicated trio.

Carmel's School Children Herald the Christmas Season

At Sunset

Reviving a tradition of many years, Sunset School students will present a Christmas program to the community this evening in Sunset Auditorium. Under the direction of Miss Jo Brazell, an operetta, "Scrooge's Christmas" based on Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," will be sung and acted by 40 boys and girls, supported by the school chorus composed of fifth and sixth graders.

The title role of Ebenezer Scrooge will be played by Fred Duhning; Jo Nesbitt will appear as Bob Cratchit; Brink Harrison as Marley's Ghost; Billy Satchell will play Tiny Tim, and Christine Dawson has been entrusted with the role of Mrs. Cratchit. In supporting character roles are Harry Goulding, David Adams, Rickey Drobek, Diane Nicoloff; also Doris Buckham, Craig Dickinson, and Darien Hopkins. Ragamuffins are Larry Jung, Ted Chapman and David Korpi.

Ghostly Angels are Jo Alberts, Susan Sparkes, Patty Bell, Annie Mast, Margie Engleman, LaRae Wilkinson, and Pam Weston. Also Deniz Cetin, Dianne Powell, Lisa Osserman, Kathy McDowd, Kathy Spindler, Kathy Luch, Rosie Comings and Sue Dean.

With the new fire alarm system and sprinkler system, meeting fire protection requirements, installed, Sunset auditorium is again available for student use for daily band and chorus rehearsals.

The public is cordially invited to attend tonight's program.

High Jinks at Wood School
Kindergartners and elementary school students at Woods School will dazzle and delight their parents tomorrow morning, starting at 10:20 o'clock, with songs, dances and Santa Claus skits. Each class will be on its own, presenting highly individualized entertainment. All grownups of the community are invited.

Parties at River School

Carols were sung by the entire student body this morning at River School, with much emphasis on "being good" and doing exactly what teachers and parents say, until midnight December 24.

Tomorrow each class will have a party all their own to which parents are invited.

All Saints Episcopal Church School
There is a creche of Bethlehem in each classroom where the children listen to the story of the Christ Child and sing carols old and new.

Auditions for Musicians And Vocalists Jan. 19

The Music Committee at Villa Montalvo, cultural center near Saratoga, is now receiving applications to participate in the annual auditions for young vocalists and instrumentalists to be held on Sunday, Jan. 19, in the Carriage House Theatre.

Each contestant will be allowed 15 minutes by advance appointment, which should be requested by mail to Montalvo Music Committee, Villa Montalvo, Box 158, Saratoga.

Mrs. A. A. Payette, chairman, announces that selections for audition performance should be chosen from a tentative 45-minute program, which the contestant must

Christmas in Carmel As It Was Reported Eight Decades Ago

Reprinted from The Monterey Californian
Christmas in Carmel—January 6, 1880

Christmas found our Carmel youngsters on the tip toe of expectation. There had been rumors for weeks past of a jolly good time coming at Mr. Joe Gregg's nice large house. Hints had been given that a pleasant old country custom was to be honored on the occasion, and as most of our Carmel folks had never seen a 'Christmas Tree' before, there was much anticipatory enjoyment.

submit in writing at the time of the audition.

Winners will have the opportunity to perform at Montalvo Gallery special programs during the year 1964.

When I add that in addition to the Christmas Tree Mr. Gregg proposed giving his friends a Christmas dinner and dance, what more could a good fellow do to insure the anticipated jolly good time. But there was even more than this done as those who may care to follow my pen may learn.

Ah! the weather! In my hurry to narrate the rush of Christmas business I almost forgot the weather. Well, such weather! Such a clear frosty snap as California hasn't seen in 20 years! Such weather as makes glowing hearths and warm, snug, well-lit rooms appreciable. Such weather as made stomachs capable of being well-lined with Christmas fare in their most distant cranks and crannies, without serious detriment to their wearers.

Guests began to arrive not long after mid-day. Among the earliest to arrive was Rev. W. J. Britton of your Monterey Episcopal Church, W. B. Post of the coast with his daughters and Mr. Edward Grimes of Carmel, nephew to that hardy pioneer, Jas. Meadows. All these appeared concerned in the despatch of some urgent private business and withdrew to a private room to square up matters if possible before dinner should be announced. Their endeavors were successful, as transpired later in the day, when Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grimes were discovered among the guests and Miss Ellen Post was nowhere visible. A long, loving life to the Christmas bride and groom say we all.

Dinner was announced at 3 p.m. and you may be sure that by that time there were any quantity of Hung(a)ry men waiting to prey on turkey. The ladies were in no way backward in assisting in such a laudable enterprise and when all that could find room were seated, the turkeys were introduced to the company, and the company introduced the turkey to their insides, and were very happy to make their acquaintance. Legend says that W. H. Symes (biped-racer, developed an extraordinary penchant for the noble birds' drumstick to assist his own hamstrings when he next goes as he pleases. Conjure up in your minds' eye all the fattest turkeys you've seen, with their trimmings, all the plum pudding, mince pies, fancy cakes and other goodies, put them on Mr. Gregg's table and you will see our Carmel Christmas dinner.

After it was satisfactorily ascertained that there were positively no more room behind any waistcoats or waistbands, there was a call for a speech. Mrs. Watkins plum pudding had left but little space for the play of lungs in so many manly bosoms that when Uncle Thomas Bralee took the floor, the sense of satisfaction was visible and audible. If any of your young readers don't know him, let me say that there is no warmer hearted and kindlier-natured "uncle" to the dozen of little urchins in these parts than Uncle Bralee.

Well, he told the company that speeches often were mere pieces of headwork, and got no lower down. He wanted to fire off his warm from the heart. They had met for a good time, the young for sport, dance and frolic, the old to enjoy witnessing and assisting the younger ones pleasures. His speech was soon over and those who know Uncle Bralee will not be surprised to hear that it wound up with a little yarn. In closing he eulogized the ladies and gentlemen to whom the gathering was due.

Rev. Britton then made a brief reply, and the time having arrived for Santa Claus to put in an appearance, the company retired to the ball room, where was set up the first Christmas tree that Carmel has seen in human memory. Ah! what an honored Cypress that was! How the youngsters eyes glistened seeing such rare fruit hanging in such brilliant profusion! And who could that funny old grey-beard be that kept guard over that wonderful tree. And when he tossed his treasures to his young friends — My stars! such times never were. Never was such a tree. But it did not belong to a class of trees known as ever-bearing and when there was no chance of more windfalls, our urchins were much amused by the still further kindness of Santa Claus (W. B. Post) who had brought with him his magic lantern, that quite enhanced their pleasures.

Dancing was the next "exercise." "Ye ugliest man" and James Meadows Jr. were floor managers, making the musicians tow the mark while the company footed it well. Some features prominent on this occasion were the lips of the lads who took part in a "Kiss dance" and gracefully saluted their partners as occasion required.

With so many exhausting "exercises" nature required support as did the tables downstairs, which, spite of the surrounding merriment, had the effrontery to "groan" all night with a superabundance of restoratives. Dinner lasted from 3 p.m. of Xmas day to 7 a.m. next morning.

"Then give three cheers, and one cheer more"

For Gregg who dwells on Carmel's shore
The 'one cheer more' is for little six-year-old Mary Eliza Gregg whose birthday we also celebrated.

The foregoing Christmas editorial, written 83 years ago was 'discovered' in the California Room of the Monterey Public Library by Winston P. Elstob of Pacific Grove. We thank Mr. Elstob for his glance into the past and his interest in bringing his 'find' to the Carmel Pine Cone — Ed.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

One of today's most familiar Christmas sights came into being for a very good reason.

Many years ago, a child upset a candle on the Christmas tree of Ralph E. Morris, a telephone man in Boston, Mass. Fortunately, Morris was able to smother the flame and save the child from injury. But he decided right then that candles had to go.

Next day, he bought a handful of switchboard-type lamps. Then, working evenings at home, Morris soldered the little lights to a pair of wires. The result: the first electric lights for a Christmas tree—an idea that made holidays safer for everyone.

When you call friends, give them plenty of time to answer. They may be quite a ways from the telephone. So it's a good idea to let it ring at least ten times.

Let's say you're talking on the telephone and you have to interrupt your call for a moment. Did you know that there's a built-in spot on your telephone that'll hold the receiver? Just place it across the back of your table-model phone (as shown at the right). If you have a wall phone, you'll find that the receiver can be hung on either side of the phone by hooking it over a built-in ridge at the top.

You can save steps while Christmas shopping—if you check the Yellow Pages before you leave home.

... And now, all of us at Pacific Telephone in Monterey want to wish you the best of this holiday season. We hope that the coming year will be a happy one for you in every way. We've enjoyed serving you during the past year. And, to show our appreciation for the privilege, we'll be working even harder to bring you the best possible service throughout the new year.

Echoes of the Holly Ball Church In The Round

A truly delightful preamble to last Saturday's Holly Ball were the cocktail parties.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Mahoney threw open their beautiful Carmel Point home to members of the Mother Goose Chapter of the Children's Home Society (sponsors of the ball). Within sound of the surf, the trees and shrubs that surround the house were aglitter with festoons of silver tinsel. The white decor of the great drawing-room was dramatized by the tall superb Christmas tree and tall gold tapers. Even the delicious canapes were in character with the season, while the wassail was, to say the least, spirited.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Brownell, also residents of Carmel Point, hosted an equally gay cocktail party for the Salinas Little Bits Chapter. Their holly festooned home echoed with laughter long past the sunset hour when the guests, as well as host and hostess, pleasantly fortified, went on to the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Greeting more than 300 guests at the Holly Ball, in the Country Club, were the Children's Home Council president, Mrs. Robert Littlefield, general chairman and the presidents of the four chapters.

From the moment the guests found their tables that were gaily decorated with tiny manzanita trees, each branch tipped with a colorful Christmas ornament, the party had that intangible stamp of success. Herb Miller and his musicians were never in better form. How Her found out no one will ever know, but he played everybody's favorite, going right back to the roaring twenties.

Dancing continued until two a.m. Nobody wanted to go home and, mingled with the Merry Christmas goodnights, were calls of "How about scrambled eggs and bacon at my house?"

From the cocktail parties right through to the early dawn bacon and eggs, the Holly Ball was the greatest ever.

It was Mrs. Fred Huber who won the jeweled Christmas tree, presented to her midway through the evening by Bob and Mary Littlefield in behalf of the Children's Home Society.

The Russians established Fort Ross in 1812 as a base for hunting sea otters and fur seals.

Christmas Observance

Sunday School children of the Church in the Round will have their Christmas party this Sunday morning at 11:02. They will show the Christmas decorations that they have been working on for many weeks under the direction of Mrs. Helen Ford. The story of each child's creation is the story of a foreign country's traditional tree ornament and the tales will be told to the adults by the children on Sunday.

The regular church service will be conducted by the Rev. Karel Vit after the children have made their presentations.

There will be a service on Christmas Day at 11:02.

REVIEWED BY HARRY WELLESLEY FLETCHER

Ansel Adams: Pictures Feature New Book

Publication of "The Eloquent Light," first unit of Nancy Newhall's biography of the photographer Ansel Adams, was scheduled to appear simultaneously with the opening last month of Adams' magnificent one-man show at the de Young Museum. The Sierra Club, which is publishing the book, could not make that deadline—one reason being that the book is such a sumptuous production that the printing and manufacturing processes took much longer than even the cautious Sierra Club had imagined it would. Will it be ready for Christmas?

David Brower, The Sierra Club's executive director, has sent along by airmail from New York a set of uncut sheets of "The Eloquent Light" with a plaintive, if hopeful note: "Here is a set of sheets I picked up from the bindery this afternoon. About 500 books are due to fly to San Francisco this week—the rest to be ready soon after. San Francisco publication date is December 16, with Newhall's staging an autograph session that day..."

I have not yet had a chance to read Nancy Newhall's text in this initial volume of the Adams story (1902-1938, in which she traces the development of this unusual man and artist). But the pictures are here to see, and they carry an impact almost as stunning as the de Young show, in which all ten galleries of the museum's wing reserved for temporary shows were covered with hundreds of Adams' pictures made over the past 40 years.

Needless to say, Brower and Nancy Newhall, who designed this oversized book, have performed a labor of love. The Photogravure and Color Company of New York have reproduced the photographs flawlessly—as witness the double spread (20½-inches wide) of

"Moon and Mount McKinley," or another double-spread, a famous picture of the Golden Gate from the sea before the bridge was built.

Altogether, these folded sheets suggest that "The Eloquent Light" is one of the most distinguished of a series of distinguished books

"... WHEN THERE IS NO PEACE" (Christmas, 1946)

Rumble and shriek and crash of war
Have been tuned to the ways of peace again;
No mushroom cloud

Rears loathsome form against the sun;
Bodies once tortured, heads long bowed
In bestial bondage are freed from pain;
And war's little children, grim with grief,
Still with recurrent disbelief,
Have learned to smile, to dance and run.

Holly once more in the windows gleams,
Carolers sing of "Peace, Goodwill"—
They drift with the slow,
Ineffably beautiful, soft snow,

And the beams
Of a myriad candles light their way
Over casement and sill.

... But lost and wing-worn, a small bird, white
Like the Christmas world,
Beats through the night:
Weary of seeking a single spray
Of the silvery olive, it bears instead,
On the Eve of this Holy Christmas Day,
An aloe flower...

Roused from pain,
Peace, half slumbering, lifts her head,
Hearkens, and drowsily asks her dove,
"Did they call my name?"

From above
No answer comes. She sighs...
And turns to a fevered sleep again.

Centenary of Birth of Norway's Edvard Munch

On December 12, Norway celebrated the centenary of the birth of Edvard Munch, Norway's greatest pictorial artist and Europe's most famous expressionist, according to the information service of the Norwegian Embassy. He was born on December 12, 1863, at Loten in Norway and spent most of his life in France and Germany. When Edvard Munch died in 1944, it was discovered that he had bequeathed all works, then in his possession, to the City of Oslo. The collection comprised some 1,000 paintings, 4,500 drawings, about 15,000 prints, and 6 sculptures, in addition to a vast number of sketches, notes, letters, books, newspaper clippings and miscellaneous documents, constituting a unique mine of information on the great painter's life and work.

Oslo City Council decided to build a special museum for this art treasure, and the new Munch Museum was opened officially in Oslo last May, in the presence of royalty and corps diplomatique.

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Fold blue tissue, tie the gold
 Ribbon on each gift to hold
 The Faith of Christmas to your heart.
 Bake fruitcake, frost gingerbread,
 Build a wagon, paint it red.
 Wreath bright holly for your door,
 With your laughter do each chore;
 Stay enchanted as a child —
 Christmas is Love, undefiled.

MARY ANN PUTMAN
 Seattle, Washington.

TO A SON GRADUATING

You stand man-tall against the sun's struck sword, as Father snaps your picture, holds your smile,
 your thrust of shoulder, your black mortar board;
 yet just above you, threatening all the while storm fronts of fear spell out the desperate word and squalls of talk attempt to cleanse its ill.
 Alert and waiting, scholar, statesman, guard,
 you watch the angers march, the hatreds spill.
 Master of Arts in History — your degree;
 what art in what degree will you employ to ease men's weathers? By what mastery free winds of wonder to their sails of joy?

Worlds in raindrops turn, and burn to bright;
 You praise the sky and walk in pools of light.

B. JO KINNICK
 Piedmont, California.

ONE SKILL DWARFING THESE

Today our skies are brisk with skilled machines
 Outwinging birds and the flight of sound,
 As if a Prometheus, unbound,
 Had stolen for man some analogue of genes
 That kindle power found
 In feathered things.

A plane becomes airborne only when stirred
 By man-conceived complexities.
 Yet lack of like capacities
 Does not impede its prototype, since the bird
 Has one skill dwarfing these —
 Life for its wings.

CARMEL BY THE SEA

Between tall slender pines
 That whispered in the breeze
 I saw a silver moon
 Play on the rippling seas.
 The world was all a silver sheen
 And magic as could be
 It made a silvery pathway
 From horizon to me.
 I saw a glittering gay Ballet
 On all those tiny waves
 Of little fairies with twinkling feet
 Who danced on moonbeams along the beach.
 They danced and pranced
 On a jeweled path
 Pivoting swirling into a dell
 And were lost for a moment in a fairy shell.
 But in the morning
 When the sun shone high
 Alas — Alas —
 It makes me sigh.
 The jeweled path
 Was a cobweb flung
 On the flowering bows
 Of a Jasmine.
 And the fairy shell
 Was driftwood white
 That when moonbeams played
 Cast an eerie light.

Riddle Me, Riddle Me — Who Knows?

(Donald E. Berry of Carmel requests that we ask Pine Cone readers to identify these lines) —

Mind is the master power
 That molds and shapes,
 And Man is Mind, and evermore
 He takes the tool of thought,
 And shaping what he wills,
 Brings forth a thousand joys,
 Or a thousand ills.
 He thinks in secret, and
 It comes to pass
 Environment is but his looking glass.

Villa Montalvo Exhibits
 Carmel Artists Jan. 2 - 31

Six different exhibits by as many artists, five being California residents, will compose the first art show of 1964 at Villa Montalvo cultural center, near Saratoga, set to run from Jan. 2 to 31.

Exhibitors of their type of art will include:

Howard E. Smith, A.N.A., of Carmel, internationally famous for his representational oil paintings of portraits, equestrian studies and landscapes;

Beth Baxter Garcia, of Carmel, will show jewelry, crafts and wood sculpture, although her versatility covers painting, ceramics and other media;

Colored etchings from the works of Prof. Paul Paulowitz, also a Carmel resident, now sketching familiar scenes of the Monterey Peninsula; formerly of Budapest.

Stained glass windows and doors, created by Mr. and Mrs. Mario Carota of Aptos and their 17 children—11 of them adopted—will be displayed;

Contemporary oil paintings of marines, landscapes and portraits by Darwin Musselman, associate professor of art at Fresno State College, will occupy large Central Gallery; and Musselman will present a free demonstration in the Carriage House Theatre at Montalvo on Sunday, Jan. 12 at 2 p.m.

Sculptures in hardwood by the only non-California resident in the show—Dr. E. V. Vegrin of New York, whose creations in nature's crude contours and shapes label, in some circles, his insight in wood as much like that of Michelangelo, who saw shapes in marble.

Howard E. Smith of Carmel: Many portraits painted, include such men as Chief Justice Earl Warren, "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell and others. Canvases are in private collections in Europe, Canada, and U.S., including Treasury dept. in Washington, D.C., Brown University, Providence, R.I., State House, Boston, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Stanford University and National Museum of Racing in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

A native of West Windham, N.H. Smith is descended from an old English family which came to America in 1636. Studied in New York, Boston, and abroad. Member of National Academy, Guild of Houston Artists, American watercolor Society, Carmel Art Association, Bohemian Club of S.F. and many other nationally and internationally recognized groups. He is also included in Who's Who in American Art.

To many, his paintings of horses are best known. They include famous Man o' War, Battleship and Troublemaker of the fleet-footed equine aristocracy, and he has painted many horses of the West, of the range and the trail, as well as polo ponies.

Beth Baxter Garcia of Carmel: Mrs. Garcia, with an A.B. and A.M. in creative art graduated from Mills College, where she was assistant to Carleton Ball, ceramist. Works in all media but current interest is wood sculpture and jewelry. One of her olive wood carvings of an owl was purchased by two members of the 215th Attack Squadron of Moffet Field for their squadron leader.

She's just been commissioned to do a mahogany elephant, has completed a giraffe mother and child in Osage orange wood, is casting jewelry by the "lost was" process in gold and silver, is making stained glass window panels and painting ceramic tiles and plates.

As sculptor-painter she is chairman of the sculptur committee of Carmel Art Association. Has won many prizes among them, first for many years at Monterey County Fair, and this year the Gold Pegasus Pendant second prize in jewelry. She also collects dolls, antique toys and miniatures, believing that story of mankind is reflected in the toys of children.

Mrs. Garcia and her husband, John L. Garcia, who also lived in Los Gatos with Beth before they moved to Carmel, run an antique business in Carmel, mostly by mail order, where they repair and restore antiques. She was born in Alameda.

Available without admission charge to the public, Villa Montalvo art shows may be seen every day except Monday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Art In Any Form Is
 No Better than the Artist

Somebody remarked to our Arts and Literature editor, "You use the same authors in your poetry column every week; how come?" To which we have only one reply, "If better poetry is contributed, and if other authors join our ranks, there will be, perhaps, more variety. Let it be remembered, 'the art is never better than the artist.' Our club is by no means exclusive. Any number and anybody can play. Incidentally, we hear that the Los Altos News is starting a poetry column, patterned after the Pine Cone feature." —H.W.F.

Mark Raggett Forms M.P.C. Citizens Comm.

Formation of a citizens' committee to study Monterey Peninsula College's building and land problems was announced by Mark Raggett, chairman of the College Board of Trustees, at a board meeting last week.

The committee, which promptly elected Dr. William Wenner of Pacific Grove as its chairman, held its initial meeting in the college library immediately after the monthly trustees' session was adjourned.

In its organizational meeting, the citizens' group set up a steering committee of five, including Calvin Wheeler, William Church, Kenneth Ehrman, Mrs. Fred Fry Jr. and Dr. Donald Jaques. The steering committee is expected to decide on an agenda for the first regular meeting of the full committee, tentatively set for January 8.

The Citizens' Committee, to which several more members may be added, Raggett said, includes Sen. Fred Farr, Mrs. Elmer Zanetta, William Church, Dr. Wenner, Stanley Greeb, Gen. Robert McClure (USA Ret.), Dr. Jaques, Will Shaw, Gordon Hall, Dr. John Holmes, Wheeler, Richard Osborne Robert Ross, Franklin K. Arthur, Dr. Talcott Bates, Dr. Remsen Bird, Ehrman, Mrs. Charles O'Garra, Mrs. Fry, Mrs. John Grady, L. M. Orrett and Laurence ("Sparky") Pollard.

WHERE THERE'S LIFE

BY ANDRE HOPE

What to get for the man, woman or child who has everything—A thought worth the thinking is to present to friends who have been married for six or seven years some duplicates of the wedding presents they received, which have been service above-and-beyond-the-call-of, such as linens, utensils, and little-things which have been cruised, abused and abraded by subsequent young.

Still one of my favorite gifts is something for people too busy to cook, or who enjoy a particular specialty of yours. If your giftee has a freezer, it's nice to present cartons of your best chicken-a-lalating or chili or desserts, including fresh frozen breads and pastries.

Going to a holiday party? Your hostess might like something she can serve, which you could deliver a day or so before. Two of my pets are "Bingies" (I know that sounds too cute, but that's the name for them) and rum, bourbon or brandy balls. "Bingies" are bite-sized squares of fruit cake in an attractive container to which may also be added various glaceed fruits. The whole is drenched in the afore-mentioned spirits or a sugar syrup with non-alcoholic substitutes, covered and allowed to ripen for a week or so. The balls are made by combining 2 cups of finely rolled vanilla wafers with 2 tbsps. cocoa, 1 cup powdered sugar, a dash of salt, 1 cup of finely chopped nut meats. To this mixture add a combination of 1½ tbsps. honey or syrup (maple syrup is excellent with the rum) and ¼ cup of the spirits; add to the dry mixture (use your hands so you know how it feels). If too dry add additional drops of the liquids. Roll into balls and roll them in powdered sugar. Put in a tin to ripen for several days. Present in a useful household container—anything from casseroles to flower containers. Oh, yes—this makes 45 one inch balls, sort of.

Expert Rifleman Addresses Kiwanis

New member John Holman, from Albuquerque was welcomed at last Thursday's Kiwanis meeting.

Speaker of the day was Maj. Steve Manchester, A.S.A. Ret'd., president of Marina Kiwanis. An ardent golfer, bowler and rifle man, Major Manchester talked of "Shooting and Shooters." He emphasized the fact of lack of public information on the rapidity of firing and the deadly accuracy of modern weapons. In illustrating his points the major displayed his own matched weapons and the new Colt 45, calling attention to its square adjustable rear sight, four pound trigger pole and nicety of fit of moving parts.

In conclusion the speaker said, "Sighting is of extreme importance as matches are won today with 197 bullseyes out of 200."

Paws for Comment

For many very good reasons animals always seem to be right there when it comes to Christmas (usually right there under the table, waiting for a chance goodie fall-out). We'd like to tell you about a few we have known or have heard of...

There was Skippy, a great dane — part golden retriever, who lived long ago in Laguna Beach. He was the pe of three little girls and slept in the bath-tub, which is possibly why the kids in the family mostly bathed in the kitchen sink. Skippy had the run of the town and wasn't good for much except he was gentle; which is a blessing in a dog his size. Just once a year he did earn his bones, however. His equally large and gentle master played Santa Claus here and there and Skippy accompanied him wearing a collar with bells and a rack of antlers balanced on his great head. One Christmas he grew bored with the proceedings and wandered into a warm neighborhood pub. He spotted a gentleman bent over a table talking to a friend and gave him a playful nuzzle, forgetting the antlers. We heard that this human was actually the first man in orbit. When the rest of the customers looked around to see what was the cause of the commotion and saw Skippy-the-dane-sized reindeer, there was very little egg nog sold for the rest of the evening...

We'll repeat one other story, which heaven knows our bosses have told enough times. One holiday season they were making decorations for this restaurant they owned. (wish we'd known them then!) The ornaments were all gilded and sparkled and put out in the back yard to dry. When it came time to pick them up; they were covered with little, tiny punctures and kind of — you might say — ruined. The mystery was solved when the criminal was discovered in the bushes; a real, authentic fox!

People were running around with thick leather gloves and garden rakes and such trying to capture him. Our mistress was pleading with them not to hurt it. Imagine a real, wild animal and she's worried! Oh, we would have handled him — barked him to a stand still from the safety of our dog house. (unfortunately we weren't there at the time). Our master reached out for him and the little fella popped right into his arms and snuggled down: tame, if you please! So, he became a member of the family until his owners showed up and not one spanking! If we'd done that damage — well!

We beg you to remember that we are very much a part of Christmas, after all — who was there before the gifts and the people and practically everyone except the angels. We were — the animals. That's why, at this time of the year you may notice a certain look of pride in even the most humble of us. Merry Christmas.

They "belong" to Carmel High. (Left) Cao-Dung in Vietnam, (right) Jonathan Kanakuen in Thailand.

Two Foreign Children Adopted by Carmel High School Student Body

Two little boys, 13-year-old Jonathan Kanakuen in Thailand and 10-year-old Cao-Dung in Vietnam, will have a happier Christmas this year than ever before in their short troubled lives. They will have gifts and glittering pictures of Santa Claus to treasure and the gifts and cards will be post marked "Carmel."

Jonathan and Cao-Dung are the adoptees of the Carmel High School students who contribute to their support through monthly collections. The money is sent on to the Christian Children Fund, Inc., an international interdenominational missionary association administering to the needs of children of all races and creeds.

Jonathan, who particularly loves mathematics, drawing pictures and playing football, is the son of a farm hand. Desperately poor, the father and mother, although not afflicted with leprosy, took their child to the Leprosy Colony where they knew he would get care. The entire Carmel High student body contribute toward Jonathan's welfare.

Coa-Dung is a rather solemn little boy who, after his father, a small shop keeper died when Coa-Dung was five, stayed close to his mother's side through three years of tragic poverty. Finally, unable to find any employment, the desperate mother took her child to the CC-affiliated Co-Nhi-Vien Tin Lahn in Nhatrang, Vietnam. "Bold" is the English translation of Coa-Dung's name. He has been "adopted" by two Carmel High School speech classes, instructed by Hadley F. Hicks.

PG & E Increasing

Peninsula Gas Supply

Work has begun on a section of 12-inch pipeline in Monterey County that will substantially increase the natural gas supply to the Monterey Peninsula.

M. A. (Mel) Wood, manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Monterey District, said PG&E has awarded a construction contract to the M. G. M. Construction Company of Concord.

The main will extend southwest of Salinas one mile along Davis Road from Foster Road to a point beyond Reservation Road. It will bring large additional volumes of natural gas from an existing PG&E transmission main to one of the company's two principal pipelines serving the Monterey Peninsula.

Cost of the project is an estimated $106,000. Completion is scheduled for the end of this month or early January.

SAFEWAY

"The LIFE Book of Christmas" is unlike anything you have ever seen. You will see the story of Christmas retold through great religious paintings of the ages; also included are dozens of finely etched steel and wood engravings of picturesque Christmas scenes. You'll see brilliant original photographs that give new appreciation of Yuletide feasts, joy of children, gladness of the Christmas celebration. Most of the pictures are in vivid full color. Each of the three volumes is large; pages are 9 x 12 inches. More than 100 pages per volume, all printed on fine papers. Bindings are in rich colors; each volume title in gold; a look and feel of elegance. You will want a set for your family and additional sets for Christmas-giving.

VOL. 3 THE MERRIMENT OF CHRISTMAS

Features the fun of Christmas with the focus on the family. How to decorate tree, house and table. The Christmas dinner. How to amuse the children.

Bach's Christmas Oratorio Resounding Success

The lyrical meditations of Johann Sebastian Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" were presented in a beautiful, youthful, and fresh performance last Sunday afternoon and evening at Carmel Mission Basilica with Mr. John Gosling very capably directing the Monterey Peninsula College Community Chorus and the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra.

The chorus sang with the great flexibility and excellent tone. Much care was taken to achieve proper balance and the desirable clarity in word projection made it immediately intelligible to every hearer. The joyous music of this splendid oratorio was especially set forth by the chorus phrase by phrase, combining exquisite tenderness along with the more powerful dramatic interjections.

The performance was then made all the more luminous and transparently beautiful by the expert orchestral accompaniment. Easily, to date, this was the very best performance in their three-year existence.

Of the soloists — Sylvia Davis gave the audience her most assured and consistent beauty of her soprano voice. Singing the other roles were, Alisa Taylor, contralto; Ronald Flugum, bass and Kenneth Small, tenor.

Christmas Program

"A Program for Christmas," 14th annual "Christmas gift to the community," will be presented by the Monterey Peninsula College music department tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

Participating will be the MPC Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Harvey Marshall, music department chairman, and The College Singers, a smaller group directed by John Erickson. Joseph Rodriguez will accompany the chorus.

"The Story of Christmas," a cantata for solo voices and chorus by H. Alexander Matthews, will open the program.

Student soloists will be Julie Walker, soprano; Ann Johnson, soprano; Carlos Yanes, tenor; Norman Lausten, tenor; Vincent Russo, baritone; Karen Emerson, contralto; and a solo quartet including Gladys Richmond, Bobbie Price, Carlos Yanes and Ronald Silvers.

The chorus will also sing two choruses from Handel's "Messiah": "And the Glory of the Lord" and "Hallelujah Chorus."

The College Singers will present "O Magnum Mysterium" by Byrd; "Et Incarnatus Est" by Bach, and "Hodie Christmas natus est" by Paulenc.

The public is cordially invited to attend without charge.

A 19-year-old Marine from a family of 19 children graduated from the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot today with a meritorious promotion to Private First Class.

PFC Michael F. Beardsley is the son of Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Beardsley who attracted nation-wide attention two years ago. He was a widower with 10 children who married a widow with 8.

Since that time they've added another to the roster. Each parent has legally adopted the other's children to make it one big, happy family.

Local television viewers should be familiar with the family. A large west coast bread company has used them in its commercials.

It also supplies the Beardsley family with the 50 loaves of bread they eat a week.

Surprisingly enough, young Beardsley had his own bedroom at home in Carmel. There are eight bedrooms and five baths in the family home.

Beardsley says he likes the Marine Corps. He feels boot camp is the best place for physical training. He was promoted for his excellent performance in recruit training.

Words for 1964

"The contest will continue—the contest between those who see a monolithic world and those who believe in diversity—but it should be a contest in leadership and responsibility instead of destruction, a contest in achievement instead of intimidation. Speaking for the United States of America, I welcome such a contest. For we believe that truth is stronger than error—and that freedom is more enduring than coercion. And in the contest for a better life, all the world can be the winner."

—John F. Kennedy, in a speech delivered before the United Nations General Assembly, New York City, Sept. 19, 1963.

In the Nov. 28 issue of the Pine Cone we printed an appeal for 24 units of blood, needed for the brother of Carmel Ambulance Volunteer, Jim Cardwell, who was to undergo brain surgery. Our American Red Cross Chapter reports that the response of Carmel citizens was immediate and all 24 units were obtained.

North America is probably the largest and most populous area in the world in which all local dialects are mutually intelligible.

WHERE THERE'S LIFE . . .

"Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly. Fa-La-La-La-OUCH!" It's prickly! Get out the wrappings, the ornaments, the table decorations — cut some greens — call the butcher, the baker, the candle shop — we need more greens. Where'll I hide this? No! Don't look in there. But I thought you tested the bulbs before we put 'em away last year! We need more greens. What do you mean, where's the tree? But I thought you got it! Careful of that box of heirloom decorations; the dogs are under your feet — careful of — Oh well, I wonder if there's any place we can get instant heirloom ornaments?

Does that sound something like your house this week? I forget, everyone has everything all done except us. However, things around here are very Christmasy. We've even got Tiny Tim — me; just staggering to my feet after an annual attack of Yule flu.

Already missed the A.F.A. Decoration sale, which I understand was a smashing success and various parties, including the Carmel Art Gallery annual. Rod went but he's not very good at describing what everyone wore. He can reel off the menu, however. Speaking of which, what (which what? such grammar!) are you planning for your Christmas dinner? Old English: Standing ribs of rare roast beef with Yorkshire pudding and a rich, creamy trifle in a crystal bowl for dessert? Gourmet: succulent little duckling in tangerine or flaming cherry sauce with wild rice, chinese pea pods and mushrooms and brandied strawberries frozen with whipped cream for dessert? I've decided on roast goose with apple, onion and raisin stuffing, bedded on sauerkraut and basted with champagne, potato pancakes, brussel sprouts with chestnuts and mince pie with hard sauce.

That's one of the joys of Christmas I shan't miss. Then, of course, there is the decorating of the tree with carols playing in the background, my Mother's special hot-spiced wine within reach and good friends to give judicious thought to the exact hanging of each ornament (the same people hang the same ones in the same place each year). An anticipated pleasure is one long, contemplative sunset walk by the December sea to put everything in its proper perspective. Bless loved ones near and too far away, if you cannot reach out and touch them; at the Carmel Mission Basilica midnight Mass. Your Christmas Day will start in the true and wonderful way in which it began 1,963 years ago; and which we devoutly hope will continue forever.

Peace on Earth and Merry Christmas.

San Jose State Prexy Announces Retirement

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of San Jose State College since 1952, announced Tuesday that he will retire as president on Sept. 10, 1964, his 65th birthday anniversary. At the request of the chancellor and trustees of the California State Colleges, he will remain on the campus as president emeritus, consultant to the chancellor and professor of education.

In a statement read to a special meeting of the faculty, Dr. Wahlquist said that he has long advocated that "executives carrying heavy duties and responsibilities relinquish their positions at 65 and turn their energies and wisdom to less demanding positions." A large part of the statement was devoted to expressions of appreciation to the many state officials, college administrators, faculty members and students with whom he has worked during the past 12 years.

Dr. Wahlquist, the 17th president of California's oldest publicly-supported institution of high learning, succeeded the late Thomas W. MacQuarrie on Sept. 1, 1952. He came to California from the University of Utah where he had been dean of the College of Education, professor of education and head of the department of educational administration since 1941.

No Cause for Alarm It Happens Every Xmas

No fires, not even puffs of smoke, tonight please! The Carmel Volunteer Fire Department will be giving their annual Christmas Party for children up to ten years old, whose parents work for the City. We guess, the we can't be sure, that Santa Claus will slide down the Fire House's wonderful shiny pole, that the engines will shine, holly berry red.

Paul Artellan is chairman and his committee members are J. R. Bell, James Kelsey, Lee McGuckin, Alex Gibson, James Cherry, James Bannerman, Joe Beneventi, Elio Chiappe, Merle Murphy and R. E. Smith.

The party starts at 7 p.m., in the firehouse.

Dinner Party Honors Russell Thomson

Attorney Ralph W. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson were hosts at a gay dinner party on Monday night at Sans Souci Restaurant honoring Russell Acree Thomson who had just been notified, by the Examiners of the State Bar of California, that he had passed his Bar Exams.

Round the table congratulating Russell, in addition to the Thompsons, were Mrs. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Hubbard, partner in the law firm of Thompson and Hubbard. Mr. Thomson is associated with the firm.

Carmel Mission Altar Society Christmas Party

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Sparolini in Ridgewood Road in Carmel was the scene of the Christmas meeting of the Carmel Mission Basilica Altar Society on Thursday. The hostesses were Mrs. H. Hasket Derby and Miss Kathleen Webster.

Following the business meeting, a program was presented by Ruth Marion McElroy, Carmel's well-known actress. A white elephant sale, the proceeds of which annually are contributed to the Sisters of Notre Dame, climaxed the afternoon.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

From Hong Kong, from Perth, Australia—from far and near they came, last Saturday, to the Christmas Fair held at the Palo Colorado School 12 miles south of Carmel on Highway One. At the close of the day the guest register revealed a great variety of interesting places and names. The 16 students, at the unique, little one-room school, and their teacher, Mrs. Nancy Bottero were beaming with joy and enthusiasm as they greeted the stream of visitors who had come to enjoy and to purchase the beautiful and useful articles that had been months in the making. Assisting the students were many of their parents and friends, and high school and college girls and boys that had previously had the unusual and happy experience of attending the Palo Colorado School.

There were Yule logs made of eucalyptus bark, pine boughs and cones and held in place with bright ribbon—just right for the season. Wreaths made of native greens and pine cones, Christmas trees (redwood ones) and a scramble table that had such things as pot holders, rag dolls, dry flower arrangements and water colors, were all attractively displayed around the edge of the lower school play field. At the far corner Cole Weston had in operation a pond with trout that proved to be a popular concession for both children and adults. Mr. Weston's donation of trout and the portable pond, came about because of his interest in the school and because four of his children are in attendance at this beautifully situated school in the coastal country.

On the upper play field were tables filled with cakes, cookies and holiday foods, which sold out long before the closing hour of the Fair came at 4:00 P.M. On the street level play area, a shetland pony went round and round, led by the older children and/or grown-ups, and both the pony and the riders caught the spirit of the happy day as they moved quickly about the enclosed area.

The months of planning, the countless hours of willing labor that went into the preparation, the extraordinary number of wildflower seeds that were gathered, wrapped and each tied with ribbon and a hand written, and decorated tag, with the wording "I'm wild and beautiful, try me and see," all were rewarded in a wonderful and tangible day. Everyone taking part had the happy feeling of a project well-done and there is now in the treasury of the Palo Colorado School a good sum of money with which to purchase books, so needed and much desired, for the school's very own library. The whole Christmas Fair was designed with the idea of accumulating funds with which to purchase books. Now, the next all-school project, will be the careful selection and purchase of many to be treasured volumes.

Never Too Busy to Accept Another Job

Announcement has been made that Ted Fehring has accepted the chairmanship of the 1961 Carmel Chapter, American Red Cross Campaign for Members and Funds. Active on church, welfare and educational boards and tops at refereeing football games there's never a dull moment in Ted Fehring's life!

It is hoped that Ted can arrange his busy schedule in order to attend the American Red Cross State Conference in Sacramento Jan. 23, 24, and 25. Other delegates from Carmel will be Chapter Chairman August Johnson, Mrs. Leo Tanous, Mrs. Carl Bosholt, F. K. Durhing and the Chapter's executive secretary, Miss Dorothy James.

Leroy Dufur is a Deer . . . Hunter

A local deer hunter returned from Utah, not only with his deer, but with a prize he won in the Thunderbird Hotel Deer Hunting Contest.

Leroy L. Dufur of Carmel brought home second place in the most points contest with a total of 25 which brought Dufur a Weatherby Mark XXII 22 caliber rifle with a scope.

The Thunderbird Hotel presented $17,000 in prizes to 25 deer hunter winners in the contest this year.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, a form of agreement between the CARMEL UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT, a body politic, and CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, a body politic, authorizing the sale of that certain real property, Sunset School, described in the exhibit attached hereto and marked EXHIBIT "A" by said School District to said City has been submitted to this Board, and

WHEREAS, said real property is not and will not at the time of delivery of title or possession, as specified in said Agreement, be needed for school classroom buildings by said District,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That the District Superintendent is hereby authorized and directed to publish this resolution in the Carmel Pine Cone, once a week for three successive weeks, and

2. That the form of Agreement hereto referred to is hereby approved and the Chairman of this Governing Board is hereby directed to sign said Agreement on behalf of the CARMEL UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT four weeks after the initial date of publication of this resolution.

AGREEMENT TO BUY AND SELL REAL ESTATE (Exhibit A)

THE CARMEL UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT, a political subdivision of the State of California, hereinafter referred to as School, does by these presents agree to sell, and the CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, a California municipal corporation, hereinafter referred to as City, does by these presents agree to buy, certain real property more particularly hereinafter described, on the following terms and conditions:

WITNESSETH:

(1) PURCHASE PRICE. The purchase price shall be the sum of $550,000.00, payable as follows: Cash on or before January 1, 1965.

(2) ALTERNATIVE PAYMENT PROVISION. City believes it is unlikely that it can legally agree to make deferred payment as herein provided, but should City be able to accomplish the acquisition of the property either directly or indirectly through a third party by means of deferred payments, School agrees that said purchase price, at City's option, may be payable as follows:

(a) Sixty per cent (60%) or more of said sum paid on or before January 1, 1965, balance amortized by annual payments of one-third (1/3) of the balance or more, together with interest at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum on the unpaid balance, paid together with such annual payments of principal so as to amortize the balance of the purchase price over a period of not to exceed three (3) years.

(3) TITLE AND POSSESSION. Title shall pass to City upon payment of the purchase price, or if the alternative payment provision is exercised, then to City or order upon payment of the down payment of sixty per cent (60%); School in such event to be beneficiary under a first deed of trust on the property to secure the balance of the payments due School. School may at its option rent said property from City, or nominee, at a monthly rent of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) per month for such period of time as it chooses after the passage of title to City, but not to exceed or extend beyond July 1, 1965.

(4) FIXTURES AND IMPROVEMENTS. It is understood that all fixtures, including property peculiar to school use, and playground equipment, are to be transferred to City as part of this transaction, excepting only kitchen equipment and kitchen fixtures, which may be removed by School.

(5) DESTRUCTION OF IMPROVEMENTS PRIOR TO TRANSFER OF TITLE. School agrees to keep the improvements on said property insured against fire loss in at least the amount of $300,000.00 from the date of this agreement until City acquires title to the property under this agreement or the option granted herein, after, or until the parties, or either of them, are excused from performance of this contract. If the improvements are destroyed or materially damaged prior to the transfer of title, then at City's option this agreement shall be null and void and of no further force and effect; or at City's option, City shall be entitled to the property as it may or not be restored or reconstructed by School, together with any funds received by School due to damage or loss of said improvements from its insurance, up to the amount of $300,000.00, and not expended on restoration or reconstruction of the improvements on said property by School.

(6) TITLE INSURANCE. At the time of payment of the purchase price, or the payment of the down payment of sixty per cent (60%) or more, should City elect the alternative payment provision of paragraph (2) hereinabove, City shall be entitled to a title insurance policy from a recognized title company in such form as it may require, showing the property to be free and clear of all encumbrances, easements, reservations, conditions or restrictions of record, except as City may except, the cost of such title insurance policy to be borne equally between City and School.

(7) USE OF AUDITORIUM. It is intended by both parties hereto that after the consummation of this sale, the use by the School District of any auditorium now existing or hereafter to be constructed on the property to be transferred herein is envisioned, said use to be granted said School District for school functions for periods of time aggregating not more than twenty-one (21) calendar days during the normal school year, said use to be provided to School District at no charge other than actual out of pocket expenses of City for utilities and normal charges for janitorial service or the service of such other personnel as may be required to be employed in such use for reasons of health, safety and public welfare; and subject further to School's reserving the use of said auditorium for such school functions at least six (6) months in advance of the date they wish to use it.

City is expressly released from any obligation to School under this paragraph for such periods of time as such auditorium becomes unfit for use as an auditorium for any reason, including demolition or construction work of any nature undertaken by the City or its assigns.

All rights of School under this paragraph shall terminate twenty-five (25) years after passage of title to said property from School to City.

(8) EMPLOYMENT OF FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS BY CITY. In consideration of School's agreeing to sell said property on the terms hereinbefore set out, City agrees forthwith to employ a firm of financial consultants to determine the feasibility of the purchase envisioned herein from City's standpoint, and require of such financial consultants that they submit their report in writing to City not later than March 2, 1964.

(9) CONTINGENCIES EXCUSING PERFORMANCE BY SCHOOL. Should City fail to receive a report in writing from such consultants on or before March 2, 1964, School at its option may terminate this agreement, and upon such termination, this agreement between City and School shall be of no further force and effect.

(10) CONTINGENCIES EXCUSING PERFORMANCE BY CITY. City shall be excused from any performance under this agreement under any of the following circumstances:

(A) Failure by School by Board action during the first week of December, 1963, to cause to be published School's intention to sell said property to City as provided by law in such matters.

(B) Failure of School by its Board to cause this agreement to be executed on behalf of School on or before January 15, 1964.

(C) Should the report of the financial consultants employed by City, as referred to in paragraph (8) hereinabove, reflect that such consultants advised that it is unfeasible or inadvisable for the City to undertake the purchase contemplated herein from a financial standpoint, then City at its option may terminate this agreement, which shall thereafter be of no further force and effect or binding upon the parties in any way.

(D) In the event City does not have the sum of Five Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($550,000) in cash available, in addition to the cash requirements of City's budget, to make the purchase as contemplated herein in accordance with the terms of paragraph (1) of this agreement, on or before January 1, 1965, then this contract shall be of no further force and effect as between the parties unless City exercises its option under such circumstances as provided for herein.

(11) OPTION. In the event City does not have funds available to complete this purchase as of January 1, 1955 in accordance with the terms of paragraph (1) of this agreement, School, for and in consideration of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) and other good and valuable considerations, does by these presents grant the City an option to purchase said property on or before January 1, 1966, on the same terms and conditions as hereinabove recited, except that in such event the total purchase price shall be paid in cash; and further, that in order to take advantage of such option, City must pay School, as consideration for such option, the sum of Fifty-Five Thousand Dollars ($55,000.00) on or before January 1, 1965, said $55,000.00, however, to be credited towards the purchase price, provided the balance be paid in cash not later than January 1, 1966. In the event the property is purchased pursuant to this option, then in such event, the School District shall have the option to rent said property from City at the rate of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) per month for such period of time as it chooses, but in no event for a period of time to extend beyond July 1, 1966.

(12) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY. The real property hereinabove referred to is that certain property situate in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, Monterey County, California, and being commonly known as the Sunset School property, being all of Blocks 97 and 110, Map of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Dear Sir:

Arriving in Brittany one sunset at a wayside inn, dinner was sky-dark pie. We objected eating sweet songsters. Our host said: "You refuse. That does not put them back singing in the sky!" We nevertheless ate only potatoes.

Latin countries lack Saxon land's love of birds. We move at snail's pace "South-of-the-Rio Grande," trying to conserve our migrants there. We ourselves once did but little better. When passenger pigeons were a dime-a-dozen in pioneer Chicago, pigeon pie was cheap.

Go to the land of hush puppies, of catfish fries. Cross Dixie to proceed thru Cuba's royal palm forest to Batabano sponge fishery. There they serve you fish cooked in paper bags, with a dessert of Isle-of-Pines fresh pineapple, dripping with "pine" honey. You then will still hear of dishes based on green turtle.

Fished to near extinction, National Parks now save these toothsome turtles. Virgin Islands National Park recently planted 1,200 babies. Each can grow to a 1/2 ton. One Dixie university hatched 20,000 eggs.

When undersigned last was in Everglades National Park, a friend suggested calling on a banana fleet owner. His first question was turtles. "I keep one boat on turtles. We catch them on Central America banks. When a darky catches one, he flops it on its back, marks his sign and the date. We corral them in a Caribbean Island close to Florida. Sometime, one escapes. He then works his way over seafloor back to his home, 700 miles away. This skipper knows the turtle has no compasses. Do your books tell?"

Scientists still have much to learn. Above 1,200 baby turtles, however, are growing. Those 20,000 eggs are given care. U.S.A. further has a self-guiding UNDERSEAS nature trail with bright colored corals in Virgin Islands National Park. A high Washington official, underwater in skin diving outfit, cut the ribbon while brilliant tropical fish kept their thoughts to themselves.

Sincerely,
C. M. Goethe

Orre Barnes Haseltine

Orre Barnes Haseltine, resident of the Monterey Peninsula since 1921, died in a local hospital, Dec. 18.

Miss Haseltine was born in Youngstown, Ohio, (originally Haseltin) November 4, 1885. She is survived by her sister, Caroline M. Haseltine of Carmel.

Graduated from Vassar, Miss Haseltine took a year of graduate work at the School of Social Service in New York City in preparation for her service for the Cleveland Associated Charities and for the Boston Red Cross.

She built a home in Carmel before she and her brother, William E. H. Haseltine built their Carmel Valley home in Los Ranchitos in 1930, where she lived for the next 30 years before moving back to Carmel.

Miss Haseltine, with her deep interest in preserving the beauty and rural character of the Valley against the inroads of subdivisions and population pressures, was one of the first organizers of The Carmel Valley Property Owners Association and was a strong advocate of community planning. In fact, it was at her home that the Carmel Valley Master Plan took shape. This was the first such plan in the nation undertaken and paid for by individuals in an unincorporated area.

"Life here was really rural then," said Miss Haseltine to a reporter asking her recently about those early days. "There were coyotes and skunks about at night and foxes in the daytime. A ride across the little mountain road that is now known as Los Laureles Grade used to stand a newcomer's hair on end. The lower valley was full of orchards and of people who were sure that they and their descendants would be farmers forever." Fortune magazine called this Valley Master Plan "a pioneer achievement."

For 25 years, Miss Haseltine was also active in the League of Women Voters. She also served as a member of the Monterey County Probation Committee, and was a charter member of Casa Abrego Club. Miss Haseltine had been a highly valued and respected member of the Board of Directors of The Carmel Foundation since 1956. During this last year she established a trust fund at the Foundation which, like the Valley Master Plan, is a pilot project and her example and inspiration will in this field also have far reaching results.

There will be no burial services. Interment will be in the family plot, Youngstown, Ohio.
